

IMPORTANT INFORMATION FOR THE PARTICIPANTS

[HOW TO GET TO THE SHANGHAI FISHERIES UNIVERSITY?]

We will use facilities in the main campus of the Shanghai Fisheries University (SFU) located at 334 Jun Gong Road, Shanghai 20090, China. The SFU is well connected to the Pudong International Airport (60-90 minutes depending on the traffic situation) to the Hongqiao International airport (60-90 minutes), to the central railway station (40-60 minutes) and also major hotels in the town (30-60 minutes). The Bund (heart of the city) can be reached by Bus 22. For more detailed information, refer to the SFU home page at <http://www.shfu.edu.cn/englishweb/> or ask Ms Yvonne Wang at yvwang@shfu.edu.cn, Secretary to Professor Xu, the local co-organizer in the SFU.

SFU: Shanghai Fisheries University

Approximate commuting time between two locations by taxi :
(time depends upon the traffic jam situations and locations)

- (A) SFU Downtown : 30-60 minutes
- (B) SFU Pudon International Airport (45Km) : 50-60 minutes
- (C) SFU Hong qiao International airport (39kM) : 45-60 minutes
- (D) Downtown Pudon International Airport : 60-90 minutes

At the air port please get the taxi with the fare meter and show the card next page if you stay in the Guest House on campus. Then the taxi will take you to the University.

The taxi fare is about Chinese 160 Yuan (max) from Pu Dong International Airport to the Shanghai Fisheries University and 100 Chinese Yuan (max) from Hongqiao International Airport to the Shanghai Fisheries University.

If you don't stay in the guest house on campus, please check locations of your hotels and learn the rough time (minutes) to reach to the SFU. Those who will present papers need to add extra 30 minutes to make a good presentation with a normal breath!?

[VERY IMPORTANT NOTES: POTENTIAL LANGUAGE PROBLEMS]

Almost all taxi drivers cannot understand English at all. When you use the taxi, you need show names of the University and Hotels and also their addresses in Chinese letters. For Chinese letters of the Hotels, you can obtain from the home pages: make a copy and keep it in your wallet. Here is the name of the University and its address in Chinese and also the contact point for help, so cut it and keep it in your wallet:

There are always terrible traffic jams in all the Shanghai city area. You need to add at least an extra 30 minutes in order to reach your destination such as the SFU on time. This is important especially for the presenters.

[CAMPUS MAPS & FACILITIES FOR THE SYMPOSIUM]

Detail maps & sketch of the guest house compound (main venue) are available in next 2 pages. There is one super market (Lotus Super Market) nearby the University. You can buy the daily goods there.

[CLOTHES]

'Causal wears' have been our traditional styles thus NO neck-ties, suits nor formal wears are requested.

[WEATHER AND HEALTH CARE]

Summer in Shanghai is very hot and humid. Take enough waters and take well care yourself.

[BANK]

There is a bank at the gate of the SFU, it can do money exchange, but limited to the cash. Foreign exchange with US traveler's checks can be made at the Bank of China at the Bund. It is suggested that the participants exchange money at the Pudong International Airport.

[LANGUAGE]

We use only English for communications, presentations, questions & answers, discussions, abstracts, full papers and all the other relevant matters on the Symposium. For presenters, please speak slowly and clearly as more than 70% of the participants were non-native English speakers for this time.

[THOSE WHO STAY GUEST HOUSE]

Payment for the guest house is made when you check out. They accept only CHINESE CURRENCY: Yuan (No credit cards nor foreign currencies are accepted). Please note that in the original room rates, the breakfast cost was not included hence the total room rate will be a few US$ higher from the original one. The dinner will be available at the dining room upon requests. If you want dinner, please request receptionists. There are no other restaurants on campus. The reception at the Guest house are open for 24 hours. So you can check in & out in any time.

[ICE BREAKING COCKTAIL PARTY]

Everyone are warmly welcome to our traditional ice-breaking party to get acquaintances with various participants from 21 counties and 4 international organizations, which will be held at the dining room, Guest House Compound from 5:30-7:30PM at the first day (Aug. 22). Complimentary Hors d'oeuvre, light snacks, drinks & beverages will be provided by the Organizer. Please keep your name tags to identify yourself as participants.

[TEA/COFFEE BREAKS]

Tea/coffee breaks will take place at Room 204, Guest house compound. Break times are indicated in the Program. Complimentary tea, coffee and biscuits are provided by Shanghai Fisheries University. Please keep your name tags to identify yourself as participants.

[LUNCH]

All participants are invited by the Organizer for the SFU (Shanghai Fisheries University) style Chinese buffet lunch for four days from Aug. 22(Mon)-25(Thurs) at the dining room in the Guest House compound. Please check the lunch time hours through the program as they are slightly different by day. Please keep your name tags to identify yourself as participants.

[BANQUET]

For those who have replied to attend the Symposium Banquet dinner hosted by the University President, please remember that the banquet will be on Aug. 24 (Wednesday) night (7PM-) in Caihonghang Restaurant 5km away from the campus. Round trip bus service is available between the University and the restaurant. We are sorry that there are no more extra participations possible for the Banquet for those who have not yet replied to us.

[KEYNOTE SPEAKERS AND MODERATORS]

There are no keynote speakers for this time due to the budgetary constraints. Moderators are assigned by subject as shown in the programs.
